

2GIG Technologies Announces Partnership With T-Mobile USA

GSM wireless technology to support 2GIG security console

Mellville, NY (PRWEB) June 4, 2009 -- 2GIG Technologies announced today that it has entered into a direct partnership with T-Mobile USA, Inc.'s machine to machine (M2M) division to provide the robust wireless infrastructure for its security suite of products.

T-Mobile utilizes Global Systems for Mobile Communication (GSM), the world's most widely used digital wireless standard. With a convenient "snap-in" GSM radio, the 2GIG security console is designed to deliver an open, continuous and secure communication platform to the homes of millions of home security customers.

"We are very excited about our direct relationship with T-Mobile," said Todd Santiago, 2GIG Executive Vice President. "T-Mobile's GSM platform allows us to create cost-effective solutions for our dealers without sacrificing reliability or bandwidth. We believe the future of home security is wireless and T-Mobile's M2M platform positions 2GIG well for existing and future offerings alike."

John Horn, T-Mobile USA's national director of M2M, said, "T-Mobile is committed to pursue and expand our growing M2M business alliances. 2GIG has quickly established itself as a company with the innovation, support and resources to provide a lasting legacy in the home security industry."

About T-Mobile USA, Inc.

Based in Bellevue, Wash., T-Mobile USA, Inc. is the U.S. operation of Deutsche Telekom AG's Mobile Communications Business, and a wholly owned subsidiary of T-Mobile International, one of the world's leading companies in mobile communications.
